

CAMP GLOW

Home Health United-Hospice is holding a number of grief support day camps for children ages 6–14 who are grieving the death of a loved one. If you are aware of any children who may be dealing with loss, please share this information with their families.

Camp GLOW (Giving Loved Ones Wings) is a grief support day camp for kids and their parent(s) or guardian(s) who are dealing with the loss of a loved one. Since children often experience grief differently than adults, Camp GLOW is designed to specifically address children's grief. During breakout sessions campers decorate memory boxes to hold remembrances of their loved one, create scrapbooks of visual memories, and of course have plenty of time to laugh and play.

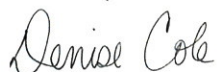

Because loss affects whole families, Camp GLOW requires that a parent/guardian attend Camp GLOW with the child to learn about the grieving process, including differences between adult and child grief. Camp GLOW holds a concurrent session for the adults while the children are involved in their various activities. Both the adult session and the camp are led by Home Health United-Hospice Grief Counselors. The adult group will provide information and tools for the adults who are trying to help their children deal with grief and also grieving themselves.

Camp GLOW is offered free of charge thanks to the generous support of donors to the Home Health United-Visiting Nurse Service Foundation. Lunch, drinks, and snacks throughout the day are provided.

Space is limited, and registration is required. For more information, or to register for a camp, visit our website HomeHealthUnited.org/Hospice/CampGLOW, call Denise Cole at 877-356-4514, or email Info@hhuvns.org.

Please share this information about Camp GLOW with any children and families you know who might benefit from attending.

Sincerely,

Camp GLOW is designed for grieving children ages 6-14 and the grown-ups who love them.

Staffed by Home Health United Spiritual & Grief Counselors and specially trained volunteers, the day-long camp gives kids the opportunity to share their grief in a safe environment.

Because loss affects whole families, Camp GLOW offers a concurrent session for adults who are not only trying to help their children deal with grief, but are also grieving themselves.
